Dear Members of the SDNY bar:

We are pleased to circulate our current list of pro bono opportunities. As you can see from the attached list, we have many cases in need of counsel for the purposes of settlement and mediation. Please consider taking on one of these cases: representing a litigant at settlement and mediation is a discrete way to contribute significantly to a speedier resolution of a litigant's claim. Even if unsuccessful, these processes have intrinsic value in clarifying the landscape of the dispute as the case proceeds.

Our list of individuals and firms that have taken on new pro bono representation so far this year continues to grow. We are so grateful for your service. We know many more of you have ongoing cases to which you committed in 2022 or earlier, and we appreciate your continued service to the litigants and the court.
